Chapter 1: The second apocalypse 2058

Time now: January 1, 2090 - Thirty two years after the second nuclear disaster in (2058).

Place: Alfatex Military colony located in the middle of the great desert - The Middle East before the apocalypse.

His mind stopped thinking clearly from what was happening to the world and froze each time he tried to study about medicine. He would spend all his time and energy into further reading and researching methods to fix or create new things. He had a passion for fixing and re-creating with the hopes and dreams he could upgrade his own brain.

Each day mister Baldy was finding more dead bodies nearby. The view of the destroyed honor camp from far away turned into nothing but rocks and old destroyed buildings. All the materials from the buildings were useless. Even the iron wasn't good because of radiations and poison from mass destruction weapons. He wanted to stay away from that for good. So, he started focusing more on what he could build and not what was happening or had happened in the past.

Suddenly Baldy wakes up from his daydream from an unfamiliar sound he hears. He turns around to find Fahaddays. A child raised by the colony ruler (Alfather).

Alfather an elder mechanical engineer who was also known to have rescued Fahaddays after the great destruction. He saw him wandering in the desert refusing to die or to give up on life without shedding any tears. Just an angry face drifting around the vast desert lost and disoriented. He clearly could not find his family or friends or even know how to search for them. This being said Alfater took him in under his wing after seeing such determination and will to survive. Alfater pointed a scanning military machine used to know humans age toward him and found Fahaddays was born on Saturday January 1 ,2050 and had only just turned eight years young in that day. This Astonished alfater and made him realize how unique he really was! A child survived the nuclear blast and crossed the desert in middle of nowhere will be his new catch.

Fahaddays was going to meet his family for the first time in his life as the honor camp teachers there told him before the distraction; I know you have a lot of questions in your mind right now about the honor camp or teachers or even why a boy didn't saw his family. Do not worry you will find answers as you keep reading this story and I don't grantee that it would be a full answer until you find out by yourself and connect the facts, Searching about the reality they were living in and for now just let us go back to Baldy and his garage.

Baldy smiles and looks up to Fahaddays face remembering the story between Alfather and Fahaddays.

He went back to the day when Alfather rescued Fahaddays and the memory appeared like a life time ago. It was a heroic dream while looking at Fahaddays childish eyes. Fahaddays was just wondering about what's going on.

Fahaddays: Baldy? Why are you looking at me like that?

Baldy: like what mighty? Oh, you're a mighty hero. You don't know yet but you will turn humans into machines and I will be happy to serve as your first mate, they will call me Baldy the Robot one day and I will laugh about it in a robotic voice ha ha ha.

Fahaddays: sure and I will name this garage the Great Kings Hall (smiles).

Baldy: who's the king?

Fahaddays: me.

Baldy: What about Alfather?

Fahaddays: He is my savior and guide to becoming a good king. He will be sitting right next to me in a large chair. I will never forget him.

Baldy: (smiles) while repeating the word, "savior" and he start to drift back again in his daydream state.

Baldy's imagination went back to the day when Alfater found Fahaddays in the middle of the desert. His daydreaming state came to a halt once he stumbled upon the memory of where Fahaddays was originally found, which was near the destroyed military camp Alfater. This sensitive part of the story was only ever told by Alfater.

Baldy already knows all the answers but each time he looks to Fahaddays eyes he feels like he is seeing him for the first time and it leaves him pondering again about his future destiny. His fate seems bright with Fahaddays future skills, strong will, might, bravery and rights towards guiding the colony into the right direction.

What's Alfater story? Well, He was driving a military Hummer H1 and surely not an average or typical made one. It is an Alfater Hummer with advanced military technology with a slight hint of a historical touch like the ones back in 2004. It was found in a military museum and was considered the only vehicle that escaped the massive apocalypse because it was parked away in a nuclear bunker in a secured basement camp.

Alfater looked at the destruction around him. He was in an old closed nuclear military camp located in the middle of the great desert. He hadn't seen everything that had happened. The area, which was once the Middle East turned to a big great desert with no water or sea's around it. Dead human bodies, animals, Alfatex robots, burning oil fields, destroyed military machines and burned Alfatex camps as far as he can see.

The geomagnetic storm also changed the face of the world and maps into something unknown. It is strange to realize that our planet once beautiful filled with large bodies of water turn into vast lands of dust. A world with no oceans and a shortage of substances that can only sustain very little life is very alienating. An image not even the greatest of scholars of that time could ever imagine. The great desert planet turned subsequently into a deadly one leaving it unwelcoming to living organisms from miles beyond our location which we refer to as Aliens.

Appearing in spaceships from galaxies beyond would eventually pass over such a planet that endured nuclear destruction and immense emptiness. Aliens will question and be afraid of what is beyond it. It was filled with lava, nuclear, destruction, geomagnetic storm and empty desert. Death has a new face and it is the great desert for sure.

Alfather: It is fine! I took the Hummer from the Sampling area and it is the area in which the military keeps historical records. Within these records you could find all sorts of machines or items made through the old military armies' camp in the nuclear basement. Since the age of the glory alfatex industry of army machines (2030-2058), Hummer vehicles are stored there and still considered in good shape. Reason being, the advance in technology the Sampling camp was non like other. Most of those machines were just for show and research so they were kept in great condition with fuel for testing.

No weapons were attached, and the Hummer was more like an historical car in the military museum for show. That Hummer H1 was the only vehicle still working. All other machines were destroyed in the mass destruction. Badly was shocked that it could have survived that period.

After the destruction alfater took the Alfatex Hummer H1, he went searching the desert for any survivors and explores what was remaining of his world.

Alfather: Please! Let me find someone. Another human. An animal or any sort of mechanic pet. I'm too scared to live alone and I always imaged my life without anyone nearby. It started to seem my own fears and nightmares were turning to reality before my own eyes witness it. It was in fact true everyone had vanished while I slept in the camp basement for thousands of years. I woke up to find everything destroyed. I was looking at what I could never image before. It was the same feeling as if you were living a dream of horror. I was like someone had just died right next to me. It was a shock. He was living all these years with his memory of the past and not realizing the extension of damage that had happened. He was living his routine with no meaning of like before this shock and now the destruction was going to change everything for him again. He was in a sad spot. Over thinking and trying to figure out what to do.

I knew I went too far in the desert. Nowhere near any closed military camp. I knew I had to start heading back, but I was afraid. I didn't want to relive the scenes of destruction I had just witnessed and the dead bodies. I even wish for my enemies to return just to have another human around. Thinking I would be living my life alone was horrifying. I started to ask myself what I had done to be alive when everyone had vanished. What had I done in my life to be punished?

While Alfater was whispering and talking to himself he had forgotten the noise which the Hummer H1 engine was making. The only thing making him happy was the joy of driving this vehicle but after the shock of seeing everything he had lost that joy.

He suddenly awakens from his thoughts and opens his eyes wide and smirk appears on his distraught face. He couldn't believe what he was seeing. He slowly and cautiously stopped the car and standing in front of the Hummer was a boy in the middle of desert just standing in the middle of all the destruction with no life in sight. How did this boy survive and is standing here? Alfater wondered.

Alfather: Is this really a boy? Or I'm I dreaming? Will he turn on me? Is he normal or is he going to try to kill me? Should I approach or run for my life. All these thoughts were flashing in my head. All my nightmares were rushing through my head. Maybe this boy was part of this mass destruction and wants the last, which is me and my machines. Little Boy please send me a sign. What should I do?

What's in his hands? Oh my, what if this is all my hallucinatory and I'm just living in my nightmare? Or daydream. What if he starts to turn now into a Demonic machine? Then I shall run him over with my Hummer. But wait a minute. A Demon dies cause of a Hummer. I think I'm losing my mind. I will find out soon if he is real or a nightmare.

Alfather slowly drives into that unknown location where the boy is standing. While slowing trying to get near him the boy didn't move. Why was the boy not scared? I am ready if the boy turns into something scary. Alfater was ready to run him over if anything seemed dangerous. He knew the Hummer could help him and protect him.

Fahaddays (the boy) was looking at the Hummer and noticed a man with an angry face was coming towards him.

Fahaddays: Is this the machine which killed everyone? Took my friends? Is this what has stopped me from finishing the camp training and destroyed my hope of meeting my real family?

(Fahaddays start to recall stories he heard from his friends in the honor camp that there was a machine used by the general nighty king. That can kill humans and it's out there in the desert somewhere) He was looking straight at the Hummer and thinking that this is general knight king who will harm him. He stood tall in silence, he kept looking at the vehicle approaching him and staring at the man's face.

Alfather: I will open the door take a step outside and I will see what this nightmare is all about or if that boy turned into a Demon, I will be shocked and wake up from this nasty dream and shouted: do you see me? Or are you a Demon wanting to make me suffer before I go to!

An act interrupted his words - Fahaddays throws a rock toward the car) while saying: That's what killed my friends. And you should stay away from me. Monster! You must realize I was in a dangerous place, I am dangerous, very dangerous and the glory general is my best friend. He is coming now to burn you alive.

Alfather looked at Fahaddays face without any words just looked to his eyes and was thinking that he is not fearful, not a single tear dropped from his childish eyes. He just said they killed his friends and the glory general wants to burn someone alive? At this point it seemed like an honor camp.

He asks Fahaddays quickly. (To be continued)

My story about Fahaddays the mighty legend who has survived from the world destruction and radioactive fallout causing the collapse of civilization in the middle east.

A man cruised looking for humans, Struggled To stay alive and went for a journey to the new world Colony hoping that he could find anything about his lost Family or what reminds of his world.

A dreamer guy took his Alfatex Gears, military Hummer h1 and hit the road with a map trying to reach the golden colony (Death Merchants Guild) seeking the chipx mentioned by Genax to him, but The painful destiny was waiting for him out there to accompany him And show him the reality of our destroyed world year 2090, love in a different way and a horror we can't imagine.
